

Copyright Assignment Agreement

CEA Journal of Economics

Please read the form and explanatory notes carefully and complete, sign and upload a scanned copy of the form to Editorial Manager when you submit the final version of your article.

The CEA Journal of Economics is published by the independent think tank Center for Economic Analyses. In order to publish your article we need your agreement to assign copyright to the Center for Economic Analyses. Please take a moment to read the terms of this agreement and the explanatory notes.

Title of Article

Name(s) of Author(s).....

.....

.....

Name of Copyright Owner, if not Author(s)

Article 1

The author(s) or other copyright owner hereby transfer your copyright to the Center for Economic Analyses. If you do not own the copyright yourself, the copyright owner (e.g., your employer) will need to assign copyright.

In particular, this means that the author(s) or other copyright owner grant us the exclusive right, for the full term of copyright and any renewals/extensions thereof, both to reproduce and/or distribute your article (including the abstract) ourselves throughout the world in printed, electronic or any other medium. (If you receive any direct requests for permission to use your article, please pass them on to the editorial department at the Center for Economic Analyses; who will respond as speedily as possible.)

Article 2

The author(s) or other copyright owner certify, as corresponding author, that you have informed co-authors of the terms of this agreement, and that they have given their consent for you to sign on their behalf.

Article 3

The author(s) or other copyright owner agree that we may publish your article in the journal named above, and that we may sell or distribute it within the journal, on its own, or with other related material. In return, we agree to publish your article at our expense.

Article 4

The author(s) or other copyright owner warrant (i.e., promise) that the article is your original work, has not previously been published, and is not currently under consideration by another journal. If it contains material which is someone else's copyright, you promise that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner (please attach evidence of this) and that the material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text. You also promise that the article does not, to the best of your knowledge, contain anything which is libelous, illegal, or infringes anyone's copyright or other rights.

Article 5

The author(s) or other copyright owner assert your moral right to be identified as the author(s), and we promise that we will respect your rights as the author(s). That is, we will make sure that your name(s) is/are always clearly associated with the article and, while you do allow us to make necessary editorial changes, we will not make any substantial alteration to your article without consulting you. When the article is accepted, we undertake to publish it as soon as we reasonably can. If it is rejected, this agreement is automatically cancelled and all the rights revert back to you. We will do everything we reasonably can to maximise the visibility of the journal, and of your article within it.

Article 6

Copyright is transferred to the Center for Economic Analyses, and we will indicate this in the copyright line which appears on your article. However, we grant back to you the right to use your own article (provided you acknowledge the published original in standard bibliographic citation form) in the following ways, as long as you do not sell it, or give it away, in ways which would conflict directly with our commercial business interests. You are free to use your article for the internal educational or other purposes of your own institution or company; or in whole or in part, as the basis for spoken presentations. You may also re-publish the whole or any part of the article in a book written, edited or compiled by you provided reference is made to first publication in the journal. Permission will automatically be granted.

Article 7

Author’s version pre-acceptance: You may post your author version (pre-peer review and editing) on your own non-commercial website, your institution’s or funding body’s online repository or archive or your own website or employer’s website/repository. Please note however, that on no account should the final PDF be posted on any website or used in any online resource without separate permission from us, and that such an action would represent a breach of copyright. Author’s version post-acceptance: In addition, you may post a copy of the version of your article incorporating changes made during peer review, but before copy editing and typesetting to a free public institutional or subject repository, no sooner than 12 months after publication in an issue of the journal. Such copy must be clearly identified as the author’s post-acceptance version and state that it is not to be cited; it must also include the following notice: © [CEA Journal of Economics, year]. The definitive, peer-reviewed and edited version of this article is published in [name of journal, volume, issue, pages, year, DOI or URL]

Article 8

We will keep the information you have provided for record purposes and to contact you as necessary; you permit your name and address to be reproduced in the journal, on indexing and abstracting and bibliographic services.

Signature of Author Date

Signature of Copyright Owner, if different Date.....

Note: if your employer, government or someone else owns the copyright, please ask them to sign here